CULTURAL PROPERTY

Whether you're open for business or closed for the night, you need to feel confident that your assets are secure 24/7/365. That means your access control and alarm systems, CCTV surveillance and fire alarms must give you full knowledge of any situation. So you can take decisive action on everything from parking issues to a break-in. Seibold Security specializes in security systems that give you precisely the knowledge and confidence you need. For 25 years, we have been designing, implementing, servicing and supporting systems for the commercial market. SECURE IN THE KNOWLEDGE.

WE'RE DEDICATED TO YOUR SECURITY. For 25 years Seibold Security has built systems that provide vital information to the directors of some of America's leading museums, galleries, auction houses and private collections. We know the components that protect cultural property best, and incorporate them with our Skyline by Seibold software to create a security system that protects your cultural property more efficiently and economically—from a single control center.

FLEXIBLE, EASY-TO-USE SOFTWARE

Our Skyline by Seibold software is based on highly flexible architecture, often allowing us to integrate your legacy databases and proven hardware directly into your new security system. When you're ready to add new components, we'll be glad to reconfigure the software to incorporate the latest advances.

Skyline by Seibold lets your guard force monitor all security from a single control center. Our software is quick to learn and easy to use so initial training and shift transitions go more smoothly—and you'll see a reduction in operator error and costs.

products & services

• ID Management

Assign and print ID badges in minutes for trustees, curators, full-time employees, maintenance staff, contractors and volunteers. Each

ID is encoded with the person's picture and facility credentials as well as employment and emergency information. Our ID management system lets you review all records and reports directly from your control center.

• Card Access

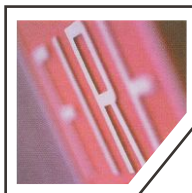

Use ID badges to control access to storage areas, administration and registrar offices, conversation areas and parking lots. Seibold

Security can also combine your card access system with sensors and timers to fit your specific auto-arm requirements for any room.

• Alarm Monitoring

From a single location, monitor the intrusion alarms and motion detectors installed throughout your facility.

• Fire Alarm

Pinpoint the location of a fire from your control center and immediately call in the relevant cameras. Our fire system is designed to give you control over the door-release function in order to maintain security and conform to the latest life-safety requirements.

• Video Surveillance (CCTV)

Keep your eyes trained on priceless objects as well as the perimeter, windows and roof of your facility. We install discreet cameras in strategic locations, then link them to your sub-systems and alarms for immediate camera call-up and recording.

• SureTrack

Installed in cultural institutions around the country, our SureTrack system helps you make more efficient use of your guard force while protecting your assets throughout multiple buildings and storage areas.

• Art Protection

Monitor an unlimited number of case, vitrine and hanging object alarms from a single location. SureTrack's wireless alarms are designed for flexible and cost-effective installation, especially in difficult-to-wire areas and locations where aesthetics and historical accuracy are important.

• Property Protection

SureTrack can also be used to guard perimeter doors, alert you to motion on the roof and grounds, detect underground intrusion, and secure your loading dock after hours.

• Guard Tour

Monitor your guard tours and reroute them as needed. In extreme situations, SureTrack's "man-down" and lanyard-pull options ensure your guard force is always able to activate the alarm system.

• Key Management

You can secure access keys when not in use and reduce the number of times you need to re-key your entire facility. ID cards provide efficient and protected access to lockboxes strategically located throughout the building, so you know exactly who has what key at what time.
